

False Registration

If a candidate Register for the subjects under the scheme already discontinued, such applications should not be accepted by the Principal. If such a candidate attends any subject, by mistake along with the students of the existing scheme, such appearance will be treated as cancelled for want of Notification of his own exam. Candidates belonging to discontinued scheme are eligible to attend exam only after the issue of orders permitting them to appear for equivalent subjects, if any, under the existing scheme. Registering for exams for which Notification is not published is a malpractice. As per the existing system maximum no of chances allowed to appear for each end semester examination is limited to four. Hence registering for an examination beyond four chances is a malpractice, it being against the rules.
